Background of this Case

Petitioner is a pre-trial detainee at the Greenville County Detention Center in Greenville, South Carolina. Petitioner is awaiting trial for felony driving under the influence (DUI) with great bodily injury (Ticket No. F-540654). A search of available on-line records of the Greenville County Clerk of Court office (<http://www.greenvillecounty.org/scjd/publicindex/SCJDPublicIndex23/PICaseDetails.aspx?County=23+&Casenum=F540654&CourtType=G&CaseType=Criminal&CourtAgency=23001&LastName=Mccall&FirstName=Terry>, last visited on April 23, 2012) reveals that an indictment has not yet been issued in Petitioner's case.<sup>1</sup> Petitioner raises two grounds in this Section 2254 action: (1) insufficient laboratory evidence to support charge of felony DUI with great bodily injury; and (2) insufficient evidence to support a charge of felony DUI under S.C. Code Ann. § 56-5-2945.

Discussion

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se Petition pursuant to the procedural provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915 and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. The review<sup>2</sup> has been conducted in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 31–35 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324–25 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972)(per curiam); Nasim v. Warden, Maryland House of Corr., 64 F.3d 951, 953–56 (4th Cir. 1995)(en banc); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70, 71–74 (4th Cir. 1983); Loe v. Armistead, 582 F.2d 1291, 1295–96 (4th Cir. 1978); and Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir. 1978). Petitioner is a pro se litigant, and thus his pleadings are accorded liberal construction. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 90–95 (2007)(per curiam); Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9–10 & n. 7 (1980)(per curiam); and Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S.

adopted, 2011 WL 2162184 (D.S.C. June 1, 2011); see also In Re Katrina Canal Breaches Consolidated Litigation, 533 F. Supp. 2d 615, 631–33 & nn. 14-15 (E.D. La. 2008) (collecting cases indicating that federal courts may take judicial notice of governmental websites, including court records); and Williams v. Long, 585 F. Supp. 2d 679, 686–88 & n. 4 (D. Md. 2008) (collecting cases indicating that postings on government websites are inherently authentic or self-authenticating).

<sup>2</sup>Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B) and Local Civil Rule 73.02 DSC, the undersigned is authorized to review such complaints for relief and submit findings and recommendations to the District Court.

319, 321–23 (1972). When a federal court is evaluating a pro se complaint or petition, the plaintiff's or petitioner's allegations are assumed to be true. Merriweather v. Reynolds, 586 F. Supp. 2d 548, 554 (D.S.C. 2008). Even under this less stringent standard, the Petition is subject to summary dismissal. The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Dep't of Social Servs., 901 F.2d 387, 390–91 (4th Cir. 1990).

With respect to the pending criminal charge, Petitioner's sole federal remedies are a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 and a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254, which can be sought only after the petitioner has exhausted his state court remedies. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b); Picard v. Connor, 404 U.S. 270, 275–77 (1971); Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court, 410 U.S. 484, 490–91 (1973) (exhaustion also required under 28 U.S.C. § 2241). “It is the rule in this country that assertions of error in criminal proceedings must first be raised in state court in order to form the basis for relief in habeas. Claims not so raised are considered defaulted.” Beard v. Green, 523 U.S. 371, 375 (1998) (citing Wainwright v. Sykes, 433 U.S. 72 (1977)). Hence, pre-trial detainees in state criminal proceedings must exhaust their state remedies before seeking federal habeas corpus relief.

The criminal charges in question are pending in the Court of General Sessions for Greenville County. The Court of General Sessions for Greenville County is a court in the State of South Carolina's unified judicial system. See Article V, Section 1 of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina (“The judicial power shall be vested in a unified judicial system, which shall include a Supreme Court, a Court of Appeals, a Circuit Court, and such other courts of uniform jurisdiction as may be provided for by general law.”); City of Pickens v. Schmitz, 297 S.C. 253, 376 S.E.2d 271, 272 (1989); Spartanburg Cnty. Dep’t of Soc. Servs. v. Padgett, 296 S.C. 79, 370 S.E.2d 872, 875–76 & n. 1 (1988); and Cort Indus. Corp. v. Swirl, Inc., 264 S.C. 142, 213 S.E.2d 445, 446 (1975).

Absent extraordinary circumstances, federal courts are not authorized to interfere with a State's pending criminal proceedings. See, e.g., Younger v. Harris, 401 U.S. 37, 44 (1971); Harkrader v. Wadley, 172 U.S. 148, 169–70 (1898); Taylor v. Taintor, 83 U.S. (16 Wall.) 366, 370 & n. 8 (1873);<sup>3</sup> Nivens v. Gilchrist, 319 F.3d 151, 158–62 (4th Cir. 2003); and Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, 887 F.2d 49, 50–53 (4th Cir. 1989). In Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit ruled that federal district courts should abstain from constitutional challenges to state judicial proceedings, no matter how meritorious, if the federal claims have been or could be presented in an ongoing state judicial proceeding. Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, 887 F.2d at 52. Moreover, the Anti-Injunction Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2283, expressly prohibits this court from enjoining such proceedings. Accord Bonner v. Circuit Court of St. Louis, 526 F.2d 1331, 1336 (8th Cir. 1975)(en banc). In Bonner v. Circuit Court of St. Louis, the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit pointed out that federal constitutional claims are cognizable in both state courts and in federal courts: “Congress and the federal courts have consistently recognized that federal courts should permit state courts to try state cases, and that, where constitutional issues arise, state court judges are fully competent to handle them subject to Supreme Court review.”

<sup>3</sup>Although the Supreme Court of the United States has not overruled Taylor v. Taintor, an unrelated portion of the decision in Taylor v. Taintor, which concerned the right of sureties to apprehend principals, has been superannuated by statute in Texas. See Green v. State, 829 S.W.2d 222, 223 (Tex. Crim. App. 1992) (“However, Taylor is not the law in Texas.”), affirming Green v. State, 785 S.W.2d 955 (Tex. App. Fort Worth 1990).

In any event, it is clear that Petitioner has not exhausted his state remedies. The judgment in Petitioner’s criminal case will not become final until he is convicted and sentenced. If Petitioner is convicted and sentenced in his pending criminal case, he has the remedy of filing a direct appeal. State v. Northcutt, 372 S.C. 207, 641 S.E.2d 873, 877–82 (2007). If his direct appeal is unsuccessful, Petitioner can file an application for post-conviction relief. See S.C. Code Ann. § 17-27-10, et seq. Moreover, if a South Carolina prisoner’s application for post-conviction relief is denied or dismissed by a Court of Common Pleas, he or she can file an “appeal” (petition for writ of certiorari) in that post-conviction case. See S.C. Code Ann. § 17-27-100 (Westlaw 2012);<sup>4</sup> and Knight v. State, 284 S.C. 138, 325 S.E.2d 535, 537–38 (1985).

It is well settled that a direct appeal is a viable state court remedy. Castille v. Peoples, 489 U.S. 346, 349–52 (1989). Secondly, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit has held that South Carolina’s Uniform Post-Conviction Procedure Act is also a viable state-court remedy. See Miller v. Harvey, 566 F.2d 879, 880–81 (4th Cir. 1977); and Patterson v. Leeke, 556 F.2d 1168, 1170–73 (4th Cir. 1977).

<sup>4</sup>The Supreme Court of South Carolina has authorized the South Carolina Court of Appeals to hear petitions for certiorari in post-conviction cases upon referral from the Supreme Court of South Carolina. See Supreme Court Order 2005-08 (C.O. 08 effective May 1, 2005), Shearouse Advance Sheet # 19; Dunlap v. State, 371 S.C. 585, 641 S.E.2d 431 (2007) (“In appeals from criminal convictions or post-conviction relief matters, a litigant is not required to petition for rehearing and certiorari following an adverse decision of the Court of Appeals in order to be deemed to have exhausted all available state remedies respecting a claim of error.”)(emphasis in original); and Lee v. State, 396 S.C. 314, 721 S.E.2d 442, 445–47 (S.C.Ct.App. 2011).

Moreover, the two grounds raised by Petitioner in this case are state law grounds relating to sufficiency of evidence. State law grounds are not a basis for federal habeas corpus relief. See Wright v. Angelone, 151 F.3d 151, 156–58 (4th Cir. 1998); Chance v. Garrison, 537 F.2d 1212, 1215 (4th Cir. 1976); and Grundler v. North Carolina, 283 F.2d 798, 802 (4th Cir. 1960), which hold that state law issues are not valid grounds for federal habeas corpus relief; cf. Estelle v. McGuire, 502 U.S. 62, 67–68 (1991) (“Today, we reemphasize that it is not the province of a federal habeas court to reexamine state-court determinations on state-law questions.”).

Since the petitioner has not been convicted and, hence, has yet to exhaust at least four (4) viable state court remedies — a criminal trial, a direct appeal, an application for post-conviction relief, and an “appeal” (petition for writ of certiorari) in the post-conviction case, this court should not keep this case on its docket while the petitioner is exhausting his state court remedies. See Galloway v. Stephenson, 510 F. Supp. 840, 846 (M.D.N.C. 1981) (“When state court remedies have not been exhausted, absent special circumstances, a federal habeas court may not retain the case on its docket, pending exhaustion, but should dismiss the petition.”); see also Pitchess v. Davis, 421 U.S. 482, 490 (1975); and Lawson v. Dixon, 3 F.3d 743, 749 n. 4 (4th Cir. 1993), where the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit noted: “[E]xhaustion is not a jurisdictional requirement, but rather arises from interests of comity between the state and federal courts.”

On December 1, 2009, the Rules governing Section 2254 and 2255 cases in the United States District Courts were amended to require that a district court issue or deny a certificate of appealability when a final ruling on a post-conviction petition is issued. See

Rule 11(a), Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United States District Courts: “The district court must issue or deny a certificate of appealability when it enters a final order adverse to the applicant.”

Recommendation

Accordingly, it is recommended that the § 2254 Petition be dismissed without prejudice and without requiring Respondent to file an Answer or return. See Rule 4, Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United States District Courts: “If it plainly appears from the petition and any attached exhibits that the petitioner is not entitled to relief in the district court, the judge must dismiss the petition and direct the clerk to notify the petitioner.” It is also recommended that the District Court deny a Certificate of Appealability. Petitioner's attention is directed to the important notice on the next page.

Notice of Right to File Objections to Report and Recommendation

Petitioner is advised that he may file specific written objections to this Report and Recommendation with the District Judge. Objections must specifically identify the portions of the Report and Recommendation to which objections are made and the basis for such objections. “[I]n the absence of a timely filed objection, a district court need not conduct a de novo review, but instead must ‘only satisfy itself that there is no clear error on the face of the record in order to accept the recommendation.’” Diamond v. Colonial Life & Acc. Ins. Co., 416 F.3d 310 (4th Cir. 2005) (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 72 advisory committee’s note).

Specific written objections must be filed within fourteen (14) days of the date of service of this Report and Recommendation. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b); see Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(a), (d). Filing by mail pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 5 may be accomplished by mailing objections to:
